

Matt Dawson

Global Operations Leader,
Real Estate Services,
Business Enablement

Matt is the Enablement Leader of the EY Real Estate Services group. Matt and his functional managers lead lease administration, business enablement technologies, reporting, compliance and operations support. Matt also served as chairman of the IFMA board of directors and is a founding director of Global FM. He provides ongoing FM industry leadership and promotion through academic conferences and international not-forprofit professional organizations. In prior roles, Matt was a director of EY's USA Southeast region ESS business unit. His team managed office administration, support services, creative services, tax compliance support, facility and asset management, procurement and security. His prior work experience includes 16 years with the law firm of Alston & Bird.

Within the FM profession, Matt has received numerous awards and international recognition. He holds a degree in business administration from Georgia State University. He successfully completed the Harvard Leadership program. He and his family (his wife, Lynn, and his kids, Erin and Megan) reside in Atlanta, Georgia.